Summary:

I came to web-design and front-end from medicine and was creating visual design for several years. But later on I tried front-end, got acquainted with javaScript and React and I feel that it is what I truly want to go on mastering. I have several small projects but I do still crave for knowledge.

I can start working as an experienced web-designer and start with React I'm truly interested in.

The payment does not matter so much - all I want is to work with professionals and to learn to write great code.
